

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Allegany

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

No

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

No

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

No

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

N/A

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

N/A

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

N/A

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

N/A

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Anne Arundel

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

Yes

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Baltimore County

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

Yes

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

No

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Calvert

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

Yes

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

No

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Caroline

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

No

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

No

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

No

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

No

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Carroll

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

No

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Cecil

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

No

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

No

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

No

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

No

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

No

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Charles

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

No

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

No

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

No

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Dorchester

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

No

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

No

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

No

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Frederick

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

No

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

No

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Garrett

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

No

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

No

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

No

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

No

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

No

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Harford

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

Yes

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

No

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

No

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Howard

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

No

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

No

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

No

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Kent County

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

Yes

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

No

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

No

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Montgomery

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

Yes

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Prince George's County

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

Yes

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

No

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

No

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Queen Anne's

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

No

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

No

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

N/A

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

No

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Somerset

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

No

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

No

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

No

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

No

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: St. Mary's County

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

Yes

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

No

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Talbot

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

Yes

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

No

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

No

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Washington

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

No

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

N/A

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

N/A

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Wicomico

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

Yes

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

No

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.

Survey Results by County

Jurisdiction: Worcester

Formal Pretrial Supervision Programs

Does your county now operate a formal pretrial supervision program?

No

13 of 23 Counties do so.

Is any risk assessment / screening instrument used to make a recommendation to the Courts?

No

10 of 23 Counties use risk assessment screening.

Screening for Mental Health Needs

As to individuals with needs for mental health treatment, does your County have any systematic screening in connection with possible criminal charges?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have mental health screening.

If your detention center learns that an inmate's behavior and/or history suggest that mental health treatment is needed to avert further criminal justice involvement, do you have resources to obtain pretrial treatment?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer pretrial treatment.

Do you have a system for prompt notification of the Court, state and any defense counsel as to the inmate's mental condition?

Yes

15 of 23 Counties have a notification system in place.

To reduce need for force against, or harm from, inmates, does your Detention Center arrange CIT (crisis intervention training) or similar training in these practices for any correctional officers?

Yes

13 of 23 Counties have CIT training.

Reentry Programs

As to reentry programs, does your detention center offer local reentry programs?

Yes

17 of 23 Counties offer local reentry programs.